MONOKO

FLEXIBILITY FOR A MORE SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

Flexibility is at the heart of Monoko, not just in its versatility for end-users, but for its end-of-life management too. The solid beech frame has been simply paired with a recyclable foam base, and upholstery fabric – nothing more - so every piece can be taken apart as easily as it's been put together. The decision was made to avoid any glue or plastic when designing the range. With simplicity in mind, Monoko has the potential for refurbishment. The cushion can be removed, replaced, and re-upholstered on the existing wooden frame to give the comfort and appearance of a new piece, but without any unnecessary waste.
